Overview: Join us for an important roundtable discussion focused on the unique challenges and legal complexities involved in sexual assault cases involving children. This session will provide an opportunity to share strategies, insights, and practical approaches with fellow defense attorneys in a collaborative setting.

Bio: Katherine Mayer is a criminal justice expert with extensive academic and real-world experience. She earned her Master's in Forensic Psychology while interning with the Capital Defender of Northern Virginia, then honed her skills as a Mitigation Specialist with Miami-Dade's Capital Litigation Unit, handling complex, high-profile death penalty cases.

Recognizing a gap in the legal landscape, Katherine founded Mayer Consulting in 2012 as a holistic criminal defense consulting firm specializing in fact investigation and mitigation. As a trailblazer in her field, Katherine became the first woman in Texas to achieve board certification in criminal defense investigation in 2017. She is also a Certified Legal Investigator (CLI) through the National Association of Legal Investigators (NALI). Her unwavering commitment to justice has driven her to expand her services over the past decade, growing the firm to offer a comprehensive suite of criminal defense and civil solutions, including jury consulting— with specialized expertise in jury research and voir dire strategy. Katherine has further enhanced the firm's capabilities by developing the innovative Jury Intel program, which elevates their current jury research service to provide deeper analytical perspectives for legal teams.
