CLE Hours: 5.0, Ethics 0.0

Time	CLE	Topic	Speaker
7:30 am		Registration & Continental Breakfast
8:00 am		Opening Remarks	Paul Tu & Jeep Darnell
8:15 am	1.0	Writing a Paper While it is unfortunate that some of our audience may forget what we've taught them by the time they walk out the doors, others may remember the valuable lessons you teach, only if we give them something to refer back to. Regardless of the learning types that exist in our audiences, we have been tasked with the crucial job of taking our knowledge to under-served areas of the state. That knowledge includes high-level materials that must match or surpass the lessons we teach during our presentations.	Monique Sparks & Paul Harrell
9:15 am	1.0	Presentations with Technology: PowerPoint Tips & AI Do's and Don'ts of PowerPoints, using video clips and embedding them into your PowerPoint; doing the PowerPoint early for TCDLA to test; how to excel with the best presentation; and new AI technology for presentations.	Clifford Duke
10:15 am	1.0	Managing Disruptive Behaviors Monopolizing, distracting, sleeping, inappropriate, inattentive, or flat-out offensive training participants can be a challenge for trainers and other participants alike. We will identify how poor and distracting participant behaviors make trainers feel in the moment, and how we can effectively regulate our response to such behaviors in a way that effectively moves the training forward.	Lisa Greenberg
11:15 am		Lunch Line
11:30 am		Lunch Discussion: Signing up for future seminars – CDLP theme, mental health, capital, forensics etc., Pair with a partner from CDLP	Paul Tu
